

Powering Sustainable Business

THE PROBLEM: CULTURE

We all know it is important to invest in our employees and ourselves to foster professional development, but how do you get employees to think outside the box? How do you get them to think like business owners or thought leaders to really push boundaries, innovate and make a change in their work and your organisation?

VISION

To bring about organisational change, empower employees with new skills and knowledge to make a difference to your business and create leaders of the future.

THE SOLUTION: TEG

Your staff must think differently from the 'big corporate' mind set they have become used to. You need to change the way corporate innovation culture is implemented and achieve a more entrepreneurial approach.

HOW DO YOU DO THIS?

Let us introduce you to The Entrepreneurs Group (TEG).

Over the last few years, we have worked with organisations of all sizes and sectors helping them to spot and unlock the potential of their workforce; helping to find and create a new generation of Intrapreneurs.

TEG Accelerator was shaped from the need for a programme that disrupted the training world and we set out to unlock entrepreneurial mindsets and behaviours of employees across organisations.

HOW CAN WE HELP?

Unlike other courses, accelerators, and incubators, we focus specifically on helping organisations find those people who can propel the organisation forward. These corporate entrepreneurs, or intrapreneurs, are offered unprecedented access to entrepreneurial management techniques through our immersive programme.

Commercial thinking

Commercial models and strategies underpin your business, the product or service you provide. Allowing your employees to develop greater commercial awareness, will give them a deeper understanding of the business and its customers, allowing them to bring about change and growth.

Entrepreneurial thinking

We want people to think and act like entrepreneurs within your business. We want to harness their passions, skills, experience, knowledge and insights, resources and networks to spot and take advantage of opportunities at the right time and in the right way.

Innovation thinking

Innovative thinking is critical in business because the world is rapidly changing. Individuals and organisations who try to get by with simply doing the same old things time after time can quickly get left behind. People who are able to open up to change and innovation, who can develop new ideas will have a competitive advantage and this is one of the skills we look to nurture.

Breaking down silos

A "silo" mentality is often the result of poor communication, misunderstandings or a lack of awareness of other departments within a business. We look to implement change and how your employees can overcome these issues by learning about the other departments, the work that they do, and how their activities fit into the "bigger picture".

We're on a quest to find and empower as many intrapreneurs as we can. We want to change the way they think, act and operate within their businesses; contributing to the objectives of the organisation as a whole.

We want to empower you to create positive impacts for yourself, your staff, and the rest of the world. We want to light the fire for intrapreneurs to find new ways of developing the business, local economies, and communities.

"I think we gained a lot from developing a shared vision of what can be achieved with a fresh mindset, we now need to set time aside to make it happen."
